From the Turkish times to the present day, coffee houses in Budapest have changed a lot, depending on current historical circumstances, social needs and opportunities.

During this walk, you will become familiar with the story of the famous cafes of Budapest and their social life. Let us start the tour close to the Downtown, then walk to the Opera House on the famous Andrassy Avenue and discover its spirit and soul from the Monarchy time to our days: shop-windows /show windows and café houses.

We continue our walk with the press revolution of Rákosi and Kádár, and the state-socialist period is recalled with legendary neon-bright “presszó” houses like Ibolya. We won't miss the new waves either.

And of course, we taste coffee!

The participation fee includes a coffee and a cake at Művész Cafe.
